

GENERAL MOTORS STRIKE SETTLED TODAY

NEGRO 'GOD' TO GET HEARING ON APRIL 30th

Stabbing Case Avidly Followed By His Disciples

New York, April 23.—(AP)—Marked by a shouting demonstration of 1,000 cult followers, Harlem's self-styled messiah, Father Divine, was arraigned by Magistrate William Farrell today on a charge of felonious assault and released on $500 bail.

A jostling, noisy crowd of Negroes milled frantically around the squat little leader as he was taken from the courtroom after furnishing bail.

For 10 minutes, the diminutive "messiah" was lost in the jam until plainclothesmen finally recovered him and pushed him bodily into a maroon-colored sedan.

Divine, arraigned under the name of George Baker, bobbed his bald head as the car slowly forged its way through the densely-packed street and finally, with gathering speed, made a getaway towards uptown after a four-block chase by his "heavenly disciples."

Four other Negroes, all cultists, were arraigned with the "father" on similar charges of felonious assault, resulting from stabbing of Weehawken, N. J., in a riotous flare-up at Divine's so-called "No. 1 heaven" in Harlem.

Hearing was set for April 30. Green, now recuperating from his stab wounds in a Harlem hospital, had accompanied a process-server to the black-belt cult headquarters to serve Divine with a summons in a civil suit.

Immediately the summons was placed in Divine's hands, police said, The little "messiah" and his followers set upon Green and the process-server in a frenzy, ultimately ejecting them from the hall.

The dapper, smooth-spoken evangelist, arrested after a two-day hideout in one of his "exclusion heavens" at Milford, Conn., after his followers had described his disappearance as his having "gone up in de spirit", appeared in the police line-up prior to his arraignment in court. He denied he had struck Green.

His followers began to gather long before the self-proclaimed "prophet" was due to appear for arraignment, impatiently shouting "they can't jail God", and "he's still God to us!"

Mrs. Hattie Tice is Called During Night

Mrs. Hattie Tice, widow of the late Daniel P. Tice, who passed away Sept. 23 of last year, died at her home, 703 College avenue at 12 o'clock last night. She is survived by one son, Daniel who is expected to arrive from New York this evening. Pending his arrival funeral arrangements had not been completed and will be announced later.

His Unlucky Day

Mount Vernon, Mo., April 23.—(AP)—A Lawrence county farmer found a flat tire and a parking ticket on his car when he came back from a store. He fixed the tire, backing into it, he smashed his own and another car's fenders. When he opened the door to see the damage, a 20-pound sack of sugar fell out and burst.

Watson, who was fired by the Associated Press for activity in the Newspaper Guild, coached the entire cast of 80 in two days. He said the job was relatively easy, since most of the cast were automobile strikers and thus experienced actors when it came to showing what happened in a motor factory.

One scene in the show was a workman holding up a soapbox marked "JOB."

"This is my job," he said, "and I'm gonna sit on it."

New Tax

Despite congressional prejudice against more taxes, one levy is finding almost universal favor on Capitol Hill—namely, the tax on radio broadcasters.

Proposed by hard-hitting George Henry Payne of the federal communications commission, the tax would begin with $1 per watt for the small broadcasting stations, and go up to $3 for large ones. The giant 500,000-kilowatt station WLW at Cincinnati would pay $1,500,000.

The proposed tax is based upon the fact that the broadcasting companies are using extremely valuable wave-channels lent to them rent-free by the government.

Habit - Forming

We say that Twizzlers are habit-forming without shame. In fact we confess it with pride. And we challenge you to try the first one (which will appear in Saturday's Dixon Telegraph) without finding yourself anticipating the newsboy's return Monday.

Twizzlers, if we must get technical, are those fun-problems which have been so tremendously popular but scarce. They will be appropriately illustrated, and the answers will appear on the same day. Twenty-four hours is too long to keep anyone in suspense. Watch for the first one.

British Ships Run Blockade and Carry Food to Hungry Spaniards

Bilbao, Spain, April 23.—(AP)—Three British food ships, running an attempted insurgent blockade under the partial protection of British man-of-war, steamed into besieged Bilbao today to the cheers of famished Basques and the crash of six insurgent air raids.

Government and insurgent pilots engaged in deadly sky flights high over the Basque capital while the cargo boats loaded with 6100 tons of provisions, docked in the broad Nervion river.

The food freighters MacGregor, Hamsterley and Stanbrook defied threats from the insurgent cruiser Almirante Cervera and armed trawler Galerna outside the 3-mile limit under the protecting guns of H. M. S. Hood, the world's largest battle ship, and flotilla of British destroyers.

The Basque trawler Bizkaya then conveyed the food fleet into Bilbao's port inside the three-mile limit, in which official British protection has been forbidden.

While joyful Basques were applauding the captains and crews of the vessels, insurgent fliers dumped more than 30 bombs on Bilbao but made no attempt to damage the British ships.

Adding to the loyalists' joy was news from the Governor General of the province of Asturias to the west that a fourth food ship had run the blockade and docked with a cargo of food at Gijon.

The Welsh steamer Mary Llewellyn under the command of bluff Capt. "Potato" Jones arrived at Gijon during the morning.

Streator Man Is New Manager of Telephone Co.; Succeeds Pitcher

A. R. Patterson Assumes Duties in Dixon Today

A. R. Patterson of Streator, formerly connected with the Illinois Valley Telephone Co., with sixteen exchanges under his supervision, and a member of the directorate of the Illinois Telephone Assn., in which he was associated with Louis Pitcher, retiring manager of the Dixon Home Telephone Co., today succeeded Mr. Pitcher as manager of the local company. Mr. Pitcher recently accepted the position of executive vice president of the United States Independent Telephone Assn., with headquarters in Chicago.

Mr. Patterson's experience in the telephone business has been from the ground up and he comes to Dixon well qualified to maintain the local company's reputation of being one of the finest independent systems in the world. He hopes to be able to find a house soon so that he and his wife may move to Dixon to make this their permanent home.

Paper Mention

The esteem in which the new manager of the Dixon Home Telephone Co. is held in his former home, was shown in the following editorial in the Streator Times-Press on his retirement from the management of the Streator company on January 1:

"Up the ladder, from collector and solicitor to general manager and divisional manager has been the experience of A. R. Patterson who relinquishes his post with the Illinois Valley Telephone Company, January 1. After thirty-two years of service, Mr. Patterson's retirement comes as the result of a program adopted by the company several years ago.

"In the time Mr. Patterson has been associated with the telephone industry, he has seen it pass through a critical stage and develop into a most useful and essential utility service. With a background of actual service in the field combined with a pleasing personality, Mr. Patterson has been most valuable to the company and to the city. As one of the principal users of telephone service in Streator, the Times-Press has been impressed with the quality of service which has been given.

"Mr. Patterson in addition to his telephone duties has found time to actively engage in community service and is always to be found busy with projects which will advance the interests of the city. It is a satisfaction to know he will remain in Streator and continue these activities."

Creation of Arts Department in U. S. Government Plea

Indianapolis, April 23.—(AP)—The government ought to be in music and vice versa, Mrs. John A. Jardine of Fargo, N. D., president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, said today in proposing creation of a department of fine arts in the president's cabinet.

"Creation of a national department of fine arts," she said, "would lift American artistic standards to the level of old world culture."

"Fostering of artistic culture is just as important a governmental function as construction of public works."

The twentieth biennial convention of the federation, opening here tonight will lay the groundwork for legislation creating such a department, said Mrs. Edgar Sullivan Kelley of New York, legislative chairman.

"The proposed department," said Mrs. Jardine, "would encourage native talent in art and music, offer the people an opportunity to become acquainted with fine art and raise public taste in these lines."

PENNSYLVANIA PAIR ARRESTED BY VAN BIBBER

Federal and state charges faced Maurice Stansbury Warren, 35, and Mrs. Dorothy Cathryn Ginter, 31, of Gettysburg, Pa., who were arrested last evening by Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber and Patrolman Seagrain at a rooming house in the west end of the city. The couple are held in the county jail on charges of adultery in default of bonds in the amount of $1,000 each, following the filing of charges before Justice Grover V. Gehlert.

Their apprehension followed receipt of a letter, said to be from Warren's wife, by Chief Van Bibber yesterday afternoon, who implored the Dixon police to aid her in locating her husband. According to Chief Van Bibber the letter stated that Warren on the evening of Saturday, April 19, at his home in Gettysburg, announced his intention of attending a picture show and asked his wife to go to a neighborhood store and purchase a new tie for him. During her absence, the information continued, Warren gathered his belongings together and, taking the car, left the city.

Questioned at the police station last evening, Warren is said to have admitted leaving home ostensibly to attend a show and then driving to Baltimore, Md., where he met the Ginter woman by arrangement, and they left at once, driving to Frostburg, Md., where they remained in a hotel over night. They spent the following night in a hotel in a town in Indiana, he was said to have told the police, and arrived in Dixon Monday, April 12. After visiting with relatives of Mrs. Ginter's who reside here, they obtained rooms at a private home in the west section of the city, where they were living when apprehended by police.

Chief Van Bibber stated today that he had informed the police chief of Gettysburg, Pa., of the apprehension of the couple and a report had also been made to the Chicago office of the Federal Department of Justice. Chief Van Bibber indicated that a department of justice agent would arrive today to investigate possible violations of the Federal Mann act on the part of the man.

WORKERS TO RESUME JOBS NEXT MONDAY

Agreement Reached in Office of Ontario's Premier

Oshawa, Ont., April 23.—(AP)—General Motors of Canada strikers voted today to go back to work Monday. The vote was 2,205 to 36.

The strikes thus brought to an end their 16-day-old strike for recognition of the United Automobile Workers as their collective bargaining agent.

They won a wage increase and a cut in working hours. Whether the union obtained recognition was disputed.

The vote was on an agreement drawn up yesterday afternoon in Premier Mitchell Hepburn's office. Both company and union officials sat in on that conference.

J. L. Cohen, union counsel, told a strikers' mass meeting before the vote today that General Motors recognized the union in the Premier's office when company officials sat down, with C. H. Millard, president of the U. A. W. A. Oshawa local, and Cohen.

Millard, Cohen said, would sign the agreement for strikers today. He maintained that act would accord the union recognition.

Union Not Mentioned

The agreement, however, is "between General Motors of Canada, Ltd., and its employees." The union isn't mentioned.

Even before the vote was announced, Millard ordered the pickets to remove the tents and shanties they had built at each of the plant's 20 gates.

The 3,700 workers walked out April 8, a few minutes after they had gone to work.

Hepburn immediately entered the picture, accusing John L. Lewis and his "foreign agitators" of having come into Canada to "dig their greedy paws in the pay envelopes of Canadian workers for dues."

The United Automobile Workers, a Lewis union, had sent Hugh Thompson, an organizer from Detroit, to Oshawa, to manager the strike.

Each of Hepburn's efforts to mediate collapsed until Thompson left Oshawa Tuesday for Washington, D. C.

The new agreement calls for a cut in the work week from 50 to 44 hours. Hourly pay rates of 55 cents an hour or less are to be increased seven cents. Those over 55 cents are to be increased five cents. Time and one half is to be paid for overtime.

STRIKE IN JANESVILLE

Janesville, Wis., April 23.—(AP)—Twenty-seven hundred General Motors employees were thrown into idleness today when a group of union workers on the frame line of the Chevrolet Motor Company refused to work.

Cessation of work on the frame line forced a halt in operations in motor factory and in the Fisher body company plant.

Company and union officials refused to discuss the dispute, but reports were that 63 frame line workers sat down at their jobs in protest against alleged discrimination against a union worker.

The employee, a member of the United Automobile Workers' Union, had been ill for several days, the reports said, and upon returning to work was given a different job.

D. G. Frazer, Chevrolet plant manager and Elmer Yenney, president of the union local, said they had no statements to make.

ANNOUNCE SETTLEMENT

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Ed Hall, second vice president of the United Automobile Workers, said today the labor difficulty which caused a stoppage of work at the Janesville, Wis. plant of the Chevrolet Motor Company had been adjusted. The workers will return to their jobs tomorrow, he added.

Hall was advised of the situation, he said, in telephone conversation with the Janesville union leaders.

He said the stoppage was a protest against transfer of two men from the frame department. Local union leaders informed him, he said, that the management had been asked to withhold the transfers until they could communicate with the national officers but refused.

The frame line workers then stopped their work. Later the management agreed, Hall said he was informed, not to transfer the men and the employees agreed to turn to work tomorrow.

Palmyra Teachers Reading Circle in Meeting Tuesday Eve

The Palmyra Teachers Reading Circle met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Gail Dickey, 815 Miss Mae Lehman presided. The secretary's report was read and approved. The roll was next called and those answering were: Miss Vera Anning, Miss Lena Bowers, Miss Ruth Bowers, Mrs. Valoris Burgard, Mrs. Gail Dickey, Miss Goldie Gigous, Miss Anna Lehman, Miss Mae Lehman, Miss Geraldine Lewis, Miss Joyce Middleton, Miss Lorraine Missman, Mrs. Edna Pine, Mrs. Dolores Redebaugh, Miss Gladys Smith.

The visitors of the evening were: Mrs. Mabelle Pine, Mrs. Amy Benson, Miss Kruse, Miss Gladys Johnson and Miss Maxine McGinnis. The business of the evening consisted of completing arrangements for graduation to be held at Prairieville, Friday evening, May 7, 1937.

Miss Anna Lehman reported "Appreciation, Our Debt to the Teacher," and "My Tribute to the Teacher," from the book, "What Counted Most," by J. W. Crabtree. "So in looking back over 'Things That Counted Most' I would leave poetry, hardships, sickness and disappointments in the list as well as sympathy, encouragement, kindness and love. It took the whole contribution to prepare me for service. I know of others equally well prepared who have travelled in a slightly different path." The appreciation of this report was expressed by the period of silence that followed.

Miss Geraldine Lewis lead in a discussion of much interest to all, "The Teacher's Personality," from "Class Room Management," by E. J. Brown. Mrs. Valoris Burgard very nicely discussed the subject which was followed by the following program:

Reading, "Jack's Big Sister," Miss Anna Lehman.
Poem, "A Small Girl Speaks," Miss Mae Lehman.
Many profession helps were exchanged. Among them were brief talks by Mrs. Amy Benson and Miss Kruse. Mrs. Dolores Redebaugh exhibited some very fine art work in booklet form and donated some very clever drawings to those who wish them as suggestions. Miss Joyce Middleton, 312 Broadway, Sterling, has invited the Circle to her home for the May meeting, May 18. This is to be a 6 o'clock scramble supper. The secretary will call the "absent" ones for the completion of the menu.

Mrs. Valoris Burgard will continue the book report, Misses Vera Anning, Lorraine Missman, Marguerite Richard, Gladys Smith and Mrs. Dolores Redebaugh will furnish the entertainment. Members are requested to come prepared for a good time.

After the meeting was informally adjourned the hostess, Mrs. Dickey, passed delicious candy and nuts. The guests having expressed their many appreciations of the delightful evening later departed for their homes. The members of the Circle expressed their sympathy to Miss Clara Haniel whose mother so recently passed away.

AUGUSTANA CHOIR RANGE IS 4½ OCTAVES—

Among the many outstanding characteristics of the Augustana Choir, which appears in Dixon on May 5, is the wide range of notes in the songs included in this year's program. The range is four and one-half octaves, extending from low "G" in the bass section to high "C" for the sopranos.

While this is remarkable for any choir, it is particularly unusual for a group of singers as youthful as those in the Augustana organization. Unlike most other college choirs of today that use faculty members from year to year to provide mature voices of experience in leading the various sections, Director Veld of the Augustana choir uses only students for his entire personnel. This year no member of the group is more than twenty-three and the average age is less than twenty.

The high "C", referred to above, is used spectacularly in the climax of the number "Nunc Dimittis" by Tchesnokoff. This song has not appeared on the concert program of the choir for the last three years because there has been no soprano capable of holding the high note. The last time Nunc Dimittis was sung was in 1934 when Miss Carolyn Bergstedt was the soprano soloist. Miss Bergstedt now teaches music in the Dixon high school.

Photograph That Won $1500 Prize At Exhibit Here

The Nowell Ward collection of six prize-winning paintings featuring his "Daydreams" which won a $1,500 award from the Eastman Kodak Co., is on display at the Phidian Art Club photographic exhibit at St. Luke's Episcopal church guild rooms.

The exhibit displays the photographic art of some of the most famous camera figures in the nation. In the Ward panel is a photograph of Sandra Roe Berg which appears on the cover of the May issue of Photo-Art. It is entitled "Maytime." Sandra is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roe of Dixon.

Also in the Ward collection is his "Old Testament" which won seven awards, two of these in London. His "Das Lied" won two prizes in New York and "Alone" two in Canada, while his "Traumerie" forms the frontpiece of Photo-Art magazine for May.

Forms Their Hobbies
A collection of about 63 photographs are all the works of business men who have taken to the camera as a hobby. These are part of the Ft. Dearborn camera club collection.

Several excellent pictures snapped by Dixon amateur photographers form the panel on screens in the center of the guild hall. These include some excellent photographs of the 1937 Rock river flood, photographs of White Pines Forest state park, scenes around Dixon and others.

The E. T. Howell collection contains several fine examples of color photography at its best. This famous artist, a member and president of the Milwaukee Camera club, spoke at the opening of the exhibit Thursday night.

In the Port Dearborn club collection are Mexican prints loaned by Vincent Carney of Rochelle. The local amateurs not competing included L. G. Adams, Howard Hall, Arnold LaCour and Fr. B. Norman Burke. Judges in the contest were Miss Chase of the Chase and Miller studio and her sister Miss Chase of Sterling, and John Nolf of Grand Detour. Prizes were awarded in three classes.

The first required the contestant to do all the developing, printing, and enlarging as well as taking the picture. This was won by D. B. Bradley with "Boy Thinking". The second class did not require the contestant to do the processing and of course had more entrants. Arnold LaCour won first place with "The Tent Mender", Howard Hall was second with "A Potter in Taxco" while third place went to Clara Gwen Bardwell with "Fjord in the Land of the Midnight Sun". The third classification was for young people of high school age or younger. This was won by Jane Hoefler with "Moose in Yellowstone".

The best photograph in each of the other contestants' groups was awarded honorable mention. The Phidian Art club president, Mrs. Harry Edwards presided at the meeting. The prettily appointed refreshment table which gave a festive touch to the evening was presided over by Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. F. X. Newcomer. The club is to be congratulated in having brought such an artistic collection before the people of Dixon. In no wise was it a money-making occasion, but rather an addition to the cultural side.

The exhibit is open to the public free, afternoons 2 to 5 o'clock, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Marion Unit Met At Sieberns Home

Marion unit of Home Bureau met with Mrs. John Sieberns on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Robert Levan presiding.

The regular order of business was followed. A committee of three, Mrs. Hazel Zentz, chairman, with Helen and Ida Levan, was named to assist the county vice-chairman, Mrs. O. W. Dodd and her committee, with plans for membership work in the county.

The members voted to lend financial aid to a county in the flood area. The April lesson, "Selection and Use of Pictures and Accessories" was conducted by the local leader, Mrs. Ackert.

A keener appreciation and more careful use of the pictures and accessories already possessed was the keynote of the lesson. The recreation leader, Mrs. Rankin, directed the group in games both amusing and relaxing. During the social hour the hostess served a most enjoyable lunch. The May meeting will be with Mrs. William Gugerty and Miss Elizabeth Colean will conduct the lesson, "Containers and Flower Arrangements."

Rays of Sunlight Causes Dimming Human Eyesight

Memphis, Tenn., April 23.—(AP)—The rays of sunlight which cause tan were declared today responsible for the dimming of eyesight from which no human being escapes with advancing years.

This report was made to the federation of American societies for experimental biology by W. E. Bruce, G. C. Wickwire, H. W. Neild, and F. M. Hilpert, department of physiology, University of Illinois.

The eye trouble as people grow older is in the crystalline lens which loses its ability to focus on nearby objects, such as the point on the page of a book.

The Illinois physiologists reported this condition due to calcification in the lens and said that the calcification was caused mainly by ultra violet light. They arrived at this conclusion by working with lenses of pigs' eyes.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON
The Little Hurts

It's the little hurt that is most dangerous, for it is commonly neglected. Among the important little hurts are contusions and abrasions.

A contusion is a superficial injury produced by an impact without a break in the skin. An abrasion is an injury in which the skin is scraped off. In common language, "bumping" causes contusions, while "skinning" causes abrasions.

Innocent and minor as these injuries may appear at first sight, they are frequently followed by serious painful and sometimes permanent effects. For example, a contusion about the face, forehead or nose, may cause the formation of a blood tumor (hematoma) may result in an unsightly, permanent lump if not treated properly. Bumps about the knees or elbows may cripple or permanently interfere with the normal functioning of these joints.

Forceful contusions and dull blows on the abdomen call for expert medical care. The latter are often suffered in automobile accidents, and not infrequently result in serious injury to or rupture of internal organs, such as the spleen, kidneys or liver.

Minor contusions should be treated by putting the affected part at rest. At times this will mean putting the patient to bed for 24 hours.

To the contusion proper an ice bag or wet cold dressing should be applied during the first 24 hours following the injury. The ice bag should not be applied directly to the skin, but rather over a folded hand towel, first placed over the injured part. Apply the ice bag for a half hour or every hour, leaving the skin free the rest of the time. Wet dressings can be made by dipping suitable pieces of cloth, gauze or cotton in iced water to which has been added epsom salt in the proportion of two tablespoons to a quart.

After an elapse of 24 hours following the injury, hot applications are better than cold. The cold applications are employed to keep inflammation in check; the hot ones to hasten absorption of the swelling.

Gentle massage and moderate exercise of injured parts and muscles favor recovery. But gentleness and moderation must be practiced in these, lest further injury be inflicted on the bruised parts.

Pinball Games Are Serious Concern To State Senate

Champaign, Ill., April 23.—(AP)—The proficiency of some students at pinball machines was a matter of serious concern to the University of Illinois student senate today.

The student self-governing body adopted a resolution last night urging faculty members to remove the "menace of pinball

PREDICT HORNER WILL VETO ANY NEW SCHOOL ACT

Governor Determined To Balance the Budget if Possible

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—(AP)—Administration spokesmen predicted today that Governor Horner, critical of the school system and hard pressed to balance the budget, would veto any of the four pending bills to increase appropriations for state aid to common schools.

When that additional revenues aren't available, the governor's finance department told the legislature this week that:

"The program proposed ignores the need for reorganization of the school system. It would actually entrench the present wasteful and inefficient set-up."

The same day the senate passed two of the appropriations, which would take more than $5,000,000 from the state treasury. The four major bills disapproved by the governor would increase the school distribution by more than $22,000,000 a year, in addition to the present annual appropriation of $13,000,000. All are backed by the Illinois Education Association.

The appropriation increase bills:

Facts About Bills
1. Increases from $13,000,000 to $29,733,080 a year the state distributive fund, extending aid to high schools. Introduced by Senator Harry M. Stitt of Litchfield, chairman of the special education commissions, it is still before the senate.

2. Appropriates $798,872 as emergency aid to about a hundred southern Illinois high schools. Sponsored by Rep. Joseph H. Davis, Murphysboro Democrat, it passed the house two weeks ago.

3. Appropriates $2,733,231 to downstate schools to adjust a disputed claim that Chicago got more than its share of the state appropriation from 1931 to 1933. Introduced by Senator Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton Republican, it passed the senate Wednesday.

4. Appropriates $2,384,256 to Chicago as the state's share of the expense of educating handicapped children. Backed by Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrat, it went to the house along with Gunning's bill.

The Davis bill is regarded as coming the closest to having a chance for the governor's approval. One possibility is that the governor might counter with a proposal to help balance the budget by cutting the $13,000,000 common school distributive fund, which was increased by $2,500,000 two years ago.

Some students, the senate declared, had devised mischievous ways to beat the machines, including the use of slugs instead of coins.

The machines were declared legal by city officials recently.

Sixth Bombing In 24 Hours Stirring Police In Chicago

Chicago, April 23.—(AP)—A sixth bombing within a 24-hour period spurred a police search today for a gang of professional dynamiters. The latest explosion occurred last night at the home of Earl H. Rieck, secretary-treasurer of the DuPage county building trades council in suburban Lombard.

Tossed in the driveway, the bomb shattered windows of the home and garage. Rieck, his wife and two children were uninjured. Rieck's union connections served to confirm a police theory that labor troubles were behind all of the bombings.

Sergeant Andrew Aitken of the detective bureau's bomb squad, ordered the arrest for questioning of James Belcastro, so-called "king of the bombers."

Tuesday night and early Wednesday bombs damaged a private home in suburban Wilmette, the Lake Shore Country club near suburban Glenview, a Chicago creamery plant and the homes of two officials of the international operating engineers union in Chicago.

Of more than 19,000,000 irrigated acres in the United States probably 85 per cent of them get water directly from melting snows, U. S. agricultural engineers say.

Quebec province produced 499,915 fine ounces of gold during the first nine months in 1936, as compared to 328,607 fine ounces for the same period of the preceding year.

Find Important Indian Village Sites And Pits

Rochester, N. Y., April 23.—(AP)—Discovery near Genesee of one of the "most important" prehistoric Indian village sites yet uncovered was revealed by Dr. Arthur C. Parker, director of the Rochester museum of arts and sciences.

Graves and refuse pits already have yielded archaeologically-important bones and artifacts under preliminary excavation by Dr. Parker and Dr. William A. Ritchie, archaeologist of the museum.

Workers digging gravel uncovered the first vestiges of the ancient site.

Dr. Ritchie reported the find was "most important" because of the three cultures inhabiting the same site. Skeletal remains of all three have been found.

The occupations range from the early Algonquin period of more than 1,500 years ago through the late Algonquin to the prehistoric Iroquois Indians of 500 to 600 years ago.

Natives of the steppes of central and western Asia and the Kalahari region of South Africa have not learned how to make pipes, so they indulge in "earth smoking." This practice consists of making a covered pit in the ground to serve as a pipe "bowl," thrusting a rod through the ground

MASSES WON'S SUPPORT

Highbrow Grand Opera

The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York has just finished a spring tour out into the provinces, and from all accounts it did very well by itself indeed. Boston turned out en masse, to prove that the fabled culture of the Back Bay has not yet been dimmed. Cleveland sent upward of 60,000 people through the gate in one week. Rochester took on a one-night stand and gave opera a sell-out. And the Met is back home now, having done its best to spread capital-A Art across a delightfully lowbrow land.

The only point still at issue is the question how long it will take the cities which have just had their fling at grand opera to get back to normal.

For when all the fine talk about great music, culture, high art, and all the rest has been said, the sad fact remains that grand opera is ideally designed to give its best American patron a terrible beating.

Consider what the American is up against when he decides to take in a bit of opera.

First of all, he is under a strong moral compulsion to dress up to the hilt. He is subtly made to feel that if he does not appear in full evening regalia he is a moral leper and a lost soul; and while the American is a noble and a sturdy creature, there is something about a claw-hammer coat and a boiled shirt that puts the iron deep into his soul.

So, all dressed up and muttering in his beard about it, he sallies forth. He pays eight or ten dollars, hard cash, for two tickets, and finds himself seated in row Q, up in the balcony, a good brassie shot from the stage. Disposing himself as comfortably as he can, he meekly awaits developments.

And what happens? There unrolls before him something which is neither pure drama nor pure music but an amalgam of both—something which absolutely nothing in his education or his background enables him to appreciate.

The proceedings are veiled in a foreign tongue, so that never at any moment does he have more than the foggiest notion of what is going on. He gets moments of noble music, to be sure; but he also gets many, many moments of acute and miserable boredom.

He emerges, at last, conscious of having done a hard job well. Next day he looks at his newspaper to find out what the score was. There he encounters a column and a half about the "brilliance" of the social spectacle, together with all the intimate details about the costumes and coiffures of all the town's wealthiest women.

Add this all together, and Mr. Average American is not apt to feel that he is missing much by living without grand opera. And if he consoles himself by sneaking off to the neighborhood movie to see Jean Harlow, who can blame him?

Grand opera will never take root in this country until it alights from its high horse. If it can lay aside its ermine wrap, its white tie, its high-society "brilliance," and talk American, it may reach the stage of self-support. Until it does, the masses will continue to pass it up.

INITIAL STEP

Following the protest of 10 New York City locals of a national union that its leaders employed criminals, ex-convicts, and racketeers, A. F. of L. President William Green promises that the American Federation of Labor will not stand racketeering in any form, and announces that the New York City situation is being investigated.

Stamping out corrupt elements in unions would seem to be about the wisest policy that both he and John L. Lewis could pursue at this time. Now that court approval of the Wagner act lends impetus to union organization, the future progress of the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. depends largely on the amount of public confidence they win.

One of the surest methods of insuring that confidence would be a widespread purge of questionable unions.

A DECADE OF CHANGE

It is not so very long since the man who wanted to fly across the Atlantic had to strip his plane down until it amounted to little more than a pair of wings, a gas tank, and a motor. He could get in it and sit down, but couldn't hope to be comfortable and didn't expect to be; all he asked was a 50-50 chance of getting across the sea.

To measure the strides aviation has taken, compare that with the new super-clippers now being built for the trans-Atlantic service of Pan-American Airways. These are giant craft of 40 or 50 tons deadweight, with three decks, quarters for 72 passengers, and accommodations for a crew of six. No one doubts that they will be able to span the ocean regularly, swiftly, and safely; and those who ride them will have comfort, warmth, and freedom of movement.

It's a long way from these sky liners to the stripped-down planes of less than a decade ago.

NO "DEFEAT"

Marvin Creager, managing editor of the Milwaukee Journal, gave to the American Society of Newspaper Editors one of the most sensible comments on the part of the press in American politics that we have yet heard.

Last fall, he remarked, President Roosevelt was triumphantly re-elected despite the fact that a majority of the nation's dailies fought him. Was this, then, a defeat for the press, as many people have said? Listen to Mr. Creager:

"Few editors wish to see newspapers reach such power as to be able to control elections. What we have seen is in no real sense a defeat for the press. It is rather a striking demonstration that the public power of the press lies in informing rather than in exhorting."

In other words, the newspaper is primarily what its name implies—an organ for disseminating news. It did that job very ably in the last campaign. It gave the voters the facts and the voters made up their minds on the basis of those facts. There is no shadow of a "defeat" in that.

CHICAGO WOMEN TAKE LEAD FOR ALLEY TOURNEY

Rochester, N. Y., April 23.—(AP)—Pinwomen in the women's International Bowling Congress faced an abbreviated schedule today with higher goals to shoot at in three of the four events following the invasion of the Fritzie Scheffs squad of Chicago yesterday.

Maintaining the fast pace they set Wednesday night in rolling 2349 for second place in the team standings, the Fritzie Scheffs swept the singles, doubles and all events.

Paced by Margaret Frank, Chicago alley owner, the Windy City crew bettered both the singles and doubles top scores of last year in piling up their near grand slam.

Mrs. Frank crashed the maples for a 627, 15 pins better than the mark of Ella Burmeister, Madison, Wis., holder of the 1936 record—and then teamed with Betty Ramsey, her fellow townswoman, to hit 1127 in the doubles, 11 pins over the '36 championship total of Loraine Baldy and Adelaide Lindermann of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Frank's mark of 1697 in the all-events was 14 pins better than that hung up by Mrs. Burmeister for her 1936 title.

Starting with a 224 in the first game of her singles, the Illinois singles champion added a 210-193 for 627, 27 pins over the mark of Louise Grellner of St. Louis, the leader for the past week.

Her 559 in the doubles, plus her 490 in the team test of Wednesday and her new high singles mark gave Mrs. Frank the lead in the all events with a 1697, 50 pins ahead of her nearest competitor, Billy Simon, San Antonio cowgirl. In third place was L. Jung, Chicago, with 1627, and fourth was H. Seyyer, Peoria, 1599.

Kipke Unworried by His Critics

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 23.—(AP)—Harry G. Kipke, head football coach at the University of Michigan, said today he was not perturbed by published reports that Franklin C. Cappon, assistant athletic director, had criticized his coaching.

"Cappon is working along and co-operating in good shape," Kipke said.

He said the coaches "are working harmoniously and co-operatively and believe we have a chance to turn out a team that will return Michigan to the top rank."

Merry-Go-Round

Capitol guides report a heavier influx of tourists this year than last, and a growing tendency of high school principals to schedule trips to Washington as part of the curriculum. On the day the baseball season opened, Congressman Fred Cummings of Colorado looked at the sparse attendance in the House chamber, counted exactly 27 members, sent out of 435, picked up his hat and went to the ball game. Twenty-six members remained. The departure of Congressman Ham Fish was delayed on that day because he couldn't find his hat. Speaker Bankhead is getting tired of waiting for a new reading clerk. House officials have spent two months carefully combing 160 candidates for the vacant post. One of those still in the running is Joe Blanton, son of blanton Tom Blanton, ex-congressman from Texas. High spot in the tourists' tour of the Pan-American building comes when the guide says, "And over there on the perch, ladies and gentlemen, we have two beautiful South American birds, the macaws. The red one understands three languages, Spanish, Portuguese, and English." (Copyright, 1937, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

ROCK ISLAND IS INVITED TO CORONATION

Husband Didn't Know Wife Had Noble Ancestors

Rock Island, Ill., April 23—(AP)—Mrs. F. A. Rounds is planning to attend the coronation of King George VI of England next month.

She said she received an invitation from Bishop Shannon of London whose father was a close friend of her great grandfather, the late Sir Michael Kinney of London, a member of the nobility and a writer and poet of note.

The invitation also was signed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Mrs. Rounds said.

Mrs. W. B. Lamont, a sister of Mrs. Rounds, will accompany her, although the former did not receive an invitation. This was due, Mrs. Rounds explained, to the fact that the invitation goes only to the second daughter of the father in the immediate line of descent from the original noble.

Mrs. Rounds is the former Marguerite Kinney of Clinton, Iowa. Her husband, who says he did not know his wife was of royal lineage, conducts a small grocery and meat market in Rock Island.

"I knew she had distinguished ancestors," he said, "but it seldom was talked about."

Police Dogs Kill Prize Sheep Herd

Springfield, Ill., April 23—(AP)—Two savage police dogs invaded the purebred southdown sheep pens on the farm of Albert E. Mavis, five miles west of here yesterday, killing nine prize winning ewes, and mutilating eight others and a blue ribbon lamb so severely that they were destroyed.

The flock, which was completely wiped out, represented seven years of breeding and care, Mavis said. Two years ago the flock won the state championship in the junior division, and last year a lamb from the flock won the state champion wether lamb division.

Mavis told authorities his son Alvin found the dogs sleeping in the pen among the slaughtered sheep early today. The youth shot and killed one of the animals but the other escaped. The destruction of the flock leaves 14 motherless lambs.

Sheriff Luke Gaulle ordered a squad of deputies to assist farmers in the vicinity to hunt down sheep killing dogs.

HIGHWAYS FOR SAFETY AND SERVICE

SHINNY ON YOUR OWN SIDE
By C. C. Wiley
Associate Professor of Highway Engineering, University of Illinois

Many accidents caused by "side-swiping" would be avoided if every driver habitually drove on his own side of the road.

Illinois has no 18, 20 or even 40 foot roads. She does have many miles of pavement of these widths but they are divided into "lanes" and each vehicle is entitled to but a single lane and this is the one on his own side of the road except for the brief period when another is borrowed to pass a slower vehicle.

Many drivers seem to think that they are entitled to drive with a wheel on the black centerline. Others appear to think that it is permissible to drive anywhere on the pavement so long as they get into the proper lane when meeting another car. Such drivers are a constant menace to safe driving. Whenever a sideswipe occurs such a driver is almost sure to be involved and of course is invariably to blame.

The black line and the edge of the pavement indicate the traffic lane and a good driver habitually drives in the middle of this space because it is both easier and safer. He does not have to wonder whether he is in the clear and does not have to be constantly watching traffic in the opposite direction so as to pull over into the proper place to pass. His only worry is the bad driver in the other car who encroaches on his lane.

It is no harder to drive down the middle of the lane indicated by the centerline and the edge of the pavement than to drive down the middle of one of our narrow slabs. Yet many drivers who will drive in the middle of a 10-foot slab will immediately straddle the centerline on reaching a 20-foot pavement.

When passing on a two-lane road the adverse lane must be used but every driver should remember that he is merely borrowing it for the time being. He should see that it is clear before he attempts to use it and should then use it no longer than necessary to pass safely and in so doing should drive squarely in the middle of it and not crowd the car being passed. On a four-lane road he should avoid crossing the centerline but often is compelled to do so because the bad driver in the outer lane is not running where he should.

Safe driving is not so much how fast you drive as where you drive so "Shinny on Your Own Side."

Thirty-five states and the District of Columbia provide through legislative enactment for the granting of scholarships to World War orphans and 11 states provide scholarships for the veterans themselves.

The seniors are busy preparing for the class play to be given this week and for graduation which will follow in a few weeks.

At the Court of Honor held in the Franklin Grove high school on Monday evening, Ashton Boy Scouts were winners of the vice-president's trophy cup awarded for attendance and advancement at Courts of Honor. Out of 15 active Scouts of Troop 114, fourteen were present at this meeting, putting Ashton in first place with a vote of 1,037 points, based on advancement in rank and attendance in proportion to the number of active registered Scouts.

The three other troops of Lee county represented were Troop 72, Dixon, receiving 616 points for second place, Troop 110, Franklin Grove, 336 points for third, and Troop 89, Dixon, 203 points for fourth place.

The awarding of seven second class badges to Paul Chadwick, Stanley Jenkins, Eddie Pierce, Charles Wallace, Leslie Sanders, Ray Winter and Earl Farver of the Ashton troop aided in the winning of the point total and was completed by the presenting of merit badges in civics and music to First Class Scout Nevin Kendall.

A business meeting of the Ashton Woman's club was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mildred Clover with the president, Mrs. Mildred Smith, presiding. Election of officers will be held at the next regular business session.

Plans were made at this meeting for the annual May breakfast. The Griffith park committee announced that a community picnic supper will be held in the park as soon as weather will permit.

Mrs. Olive Vaupel and Mrs. Betty Griffith were appointed delegates from the local club to the annual convention of the 13th district Women's club federation which will be held in Dixon, Thursday, May 6, and Mrs. Nellie Drummond and Mrs. Mildred Clover, alternates. Mrs. Anna Witzel was appointed a delegate to the state convention which will be held in Peoria later in May.

Ashton high school will be represented at the state music contest this year for the ninth consecutive year. Both the high school and beginners orchestra, directed by Herman O'May were placed in the first division at the district contest at Normal on May 1.

This year marks the sixth consecutive appearance of the Ashton high school orchestra at the state contest, and during that time, since the first trip to Normal in 1932 the A. H. S. orchestra has won three first and a second.

The beginners orchestra of 12 members composed of pupils from the second to the eighth grade was rated in the first division although playing without competition. The high school orchestra competing against Hincley and Byron in class O. C. were rated with Hincley in the first division.

Flood Of House Bills Clears Up Senate Calendar

Springfield, Ill., April 23—(AP)—The senate's action in sending all house bills to the executive committee resulted in less work for the printers.

Twenty two house bills, some of them on third reading, the passage stage, were absent from Tuesday's senate calendar, received by Secretary A. E. Eden yesterday.

Eden, employed in the senate for a long period of years, said he recalled no such incident in previous years, and that it might never happen again, at least after a session was so far underway.

With only slightly more than two months remaining to consider measures, the senate's action on the house bills increased the prospect that a "legislative jam" would occur in the closing weeks of the session.

Omaha Woman Is Chosen American Mother Of

The committee of the foundation voted on three candidates chosen from a list of entrants submitted from all over the country. The other two candidates in the final selection were Mrs. Esta Graham of Mitchell, S. D., 62, and Mrs. Willis P. Miner, 75, of Mountain Lakes, N. J.

Rock Island Road to Lease Engines

PRICE BILL UP FOR THREE HOUR DEBATE TUES.

Washington, April 23—(AP)—The House rules committee has approved a rule to allow the Miller-Tydings price maintenance bill to be called up on the floor for three hours' debate—perhaps next Tuesday.

It acted after hearing the measure defended as on to "save" the small storekeeper and attacked as one that would bring "misery and woe" to the consumer.

The bill would remove application of federal anti-trust laws to price maintenance statutes in 38 states. Under the laws of those states, manufacturers are permitted to set minimum prices for their products in contracts with retailers.

Representative Miller (D-Ark), House sponsor of the bill, told the committee small retailers were supporting the measure in an attempt to outlaw "lost leaders" sales by large stores. (Loss leaders are products sold at a loss to attract trade).

Representative Cox (D-Ala.), declared the distillery industry was the real sponsor.

"Let me warn you, this is price-fixing," he said, "and it holds nothing in store for the consumer but misery and woe."

Miller retorted that unless the law is passed, the small dealer would be driven out of business, leaving the "big stores with a monopoly."

Vallee Pleads For Personal Privacy

by Rudy Vallee, radio crooner, for protection of his "human rights and privacy" after his conviction on a charge of assaulting a news cameraman, brought from the photographer's counsel an announcement civil suit would be brought to reimburse the photographer.

Vallee and Harry Paul, theatrical agent, were convicted of assaulting Benedict Fitzgerald as he photographed them and a girl companion. Vallee avoided a police record when the court placed his case on file, but last night he "went on the air" and pleaded against "this unwarranted intrusion" and the theory "all celebrities are fair game" for photographers.

Alleged Illegal Contractors Held

New York, April 23—(AP)—Fifteen persons, alleged members of an illegal, underpaying contractors' ring, were arrested here on orders of Attorney-General John J. Bennett, Jr.

Among those taken into custody was Martin Goldstein, whom Bennett described as a professional thug and head of a strong arm gang. Seymour Magoon, said to be Goldstein's bodyguard, also was arrested.

The Attorney-General charged all the persons arrested with conspiracy.

The so-called ring is alleged to have established a monopoly on public school painting and decorating in New York and to have used sluggers to prevent members of the American Federation of Labor from protesting against its activities.

Women of Mt. Morris to Organize Business Club First Wednesday in May

Much Enthusiasm Is Shown At Meeting Monday

(Telegraph Special Service)

Mt. Morris—At a meeting of twenty women held at Kable Inn Monday evening, there was evidenced much enthusiasm for the formation of a Mount Morris Business and Professional Women's club. Present at the meeting were Miss Estelle Milne, president of the Rockford club, and Miss Elizabeth Priest, who was named by the state B-P-W-C federation to aid in the organization of new groups. Through Miss Priest's pleasing personality, the purposes and advantages of such an organization were clearly and concisely outlined.

Although many people are prone to question the value of initiating another organization in Mount Morris, it is a fact that we have no group which specifically caters to the needs of the many women who are employed here. There seems to be a distinct need for an organization which will provide an opportunity for association and mutual benefit to the many ladies who are employed with Woman's World, Poultry Tribune, Kable News, Kable Brothers Company, and the various professions and lines of business in our village.

Miss Dorothy Vanston was elected temporary chairman of the meeting, while Miss Hazel Kimmel was named temporary secretary. On the constitution and by-laws committee are the Misses Jane Wingard, Marge Chermak, and Loretta Gilbert. Although we were at the meeting merely on a quest of a story for you, our evident amateur standing as a columnist, could not serve to keep us off the membership committee.

For the information of those women who no doubt will be interested, some of the particular objectives of this organization are: "To elevate the standards for women in business and the professions;

"To promote the interest of business and professional women;

"To stimulate local and state organizations;

"To bring about a spirit of co-operation among business and professional women of the United States;

"To extend opportunities to business and professional women through education along lines of industrial, scientific, and vocational activities."

It seems to us that such purposes merit sincere consideration. Those present at the meeting were Dorothy Vanston, Hazel Kimmel, Phyllis Robbins, Dorothy Niman, Edna McNett, Dorcas Huffman, M. N. Masterson, Jane Wingard, Mable Boydston, Catherine Miller, Ethyle McNett, Irma Armbruster, Arminnie Boston, Pauline Yoe, Alice Lambert, Loretta Gilbert, Marian Buisker, Charlotte B. Adams, Marge M. Chermak and Mary Louise Allgire. These, with any others who are likely to have interest in the formation of such a club, will hold its next meeting on Wednesday, May 5, at a place which will be announced next week.

Mrs. John Morris, who before her marriage in early April was Miss Ealy Grobe was feted at a shower party given for her Tuesday evening by Miss Beatrice Horton. A white wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and circled at its base with a wreath of sweetpeas and roses, centered the table about which the guests were seated for dinner. A large basket filled with gaily wrapped packages was presented to the honoree after the dinner, and following the "opening ceremonies" bridge was enjoyed during the remainder of the evening. Prizes for high score were given to Miss Ethyle McNett and Mrs. Harry Herrmann. The guest list included the Misses Ross Stouffer, H. J. Stengel, Marian McNett, C. L. Smith, Paul Yoe, Mildred Newton and the Misses Mary McColi, Mary Wishard, Edna McNett and Marian Symphon.

Surrounded by palms and around a warming camp fire, the girls of the Standard Bearer society of the Methodist church and the Missionary Circle of the Christian church gathered at tables for their African Palaver Monday evening, which was held in the parlors of the Christian church. Following a dinner, at which the menu consisted of foods which come from far away Africa, and among the decorations of pink, red and green jungle beasts, the girls listened to a very interesting program. Group singing was followed by a Scripture reading by Helen Avey and a prayer by Nannie Martin. Louise Smith read a poem, Jane Devine sang a group of songs and Mrs. Cecil Armbruster talked of the religious future of Africa. Miss Virginia Turner spoke on "Housekeeping in Africa," and Miss Verne Mae Pittenger's paper was entitled, "Consider Africa," in which she gave a compilation of facts regarding this jungle country. Mrs. D. G. Carpenter, leader of the Methodist society, brought the meeting to a conclusion with the benediction.

Mrs. Vivian and Robert Martin were the initiates at the ceremonies held by the local chapter of the Eastern Star Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Carol Boston, Worthy Patron and Worthy Matron, were hosts to the largest assemblage of guests which the local organization ever has entertained. A pleasant surprise of the occasion, was the last minute arrival of a group of friends of Mrs. Boston, from the Wild Rose chapter of Manlius, Ill.

All the chairs were filled by guest officers who were: Mesdames Kathryn Whitehead, Forest City chapter, Worthy Matron; Grace Zoiders, Freeport, Associate Matron; Edyth Edelman, Sunnyside chapter, secretary; Ruth Cleaver, Cherry Valley chapter, treasurer; Daisy Lea Elliott, Holcomb chapter, Conductress; Margaret Maxson, Salome chapter, Associate Conductress; Helen Wickwar, Adeline chapter, Chaplain; Elsie Smith, Anna Cole chapter, Marshal; Mildred Foster, Star Light chapter, organist; Hazel Shottliff, Star Light chapter, soloist; Lillian Garner, Belitista chapter, Adah; Lillian Bisker, Corinthian chapter, Ruth; Edna Hoener, Sterling chapter; Esther; Beulah Tennant, Dorothy chapter, Martha; Jane Spafford, Rockford chapter, Electa; Carrie Boggott, Bernice chapter, Warde; and Messrs. Arthur Elliott, Holcomb chapter, Worthy Patron; Harry Robinson, Forest City chapter, Associate Patron; and William Price, Mount Morris chapter, Sentinel.

Other guests present were the following members of grand chapter committee: The Misses, Alida Reigeman, Carrie Coe, and Miss Pearl Heitz, all of eligibility; Grand Lecturers Mrs. Jennie Klome and Mrs. Alice Wickwire was Mrs. Boston's guest of honor for the evening.

After the ceremonies, the guest and local officers were received by the Worthy Matron in the dining room, where places had been set for them. The table decorations represented a runway for the miniature airplanes which had just landed beside the colorful little beacons at each place, and carried the name and number of the chapter from which the guest came. Above the two long tables was a large circling silver airplane with the name of Mount Morris chapter inscribed on it, and a "smoke-written" welcome trailing from its exhaust. The scene was made more colorfully beautiful by the dimming of the lights with amber and orchid paper. The other guests received refreshments in the chapter room.

The kitchen committee, with Ethel Mills in charge, served sherbet, cakes and coffee, carrying out the colors of the star points, and are to be commended for the efficient manner in which they took care of the 156 guests.

Mrs. Dale Lizer, Mrs. John Buck, Mrs. Rollie Ommen, Mrs. Paul Yoe and Mrs. Darrel Toms were luncheon guests of Mrs. Hugh Felker on Thursday.

Mrs. Donovan Mills entertained the members of her bridge club on Wednesday evening.

The members of the Fortnightly club enjoyed their regular games of "42" Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ol Watts.

Mrs. Arthur Harper served a luncheon to the Misses, Dale Lizer, Warren Burchby, Maurice Quinlan, Oscar Jern, Frank Horton, Paul Yoe and Miss Bea Horton Wednesday afternoon. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Jern and Miss Horton.

LaVella Oxley Bride of William Flora

A charming home wedding took place Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Oxley, when their daughter, Miss LaVella, became the bride of William Flora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah B. Flora of Quinter, Kansas. The service was read by the Rev. Mr. Merle Hawbecker, pastor of the West Branch Brethren church.

The bride was lovely in a gown of blue crepe, colorfully matched by the pastel shades of the colonial bouquet of sweet peas which she carried. She was preceded to the altar by her bridesmaid, Miss Aleatha Highberger, who was escorted by Paul Oxley, brother of the bride. The little flower girl, Wava Noffsinger, niece of the bride, wore a frock of blue with a bracelet of sweet peas. The bridesmaid chose a gown of white, and also carried a matching colonial bouquet.

At the reception for the guests, which followed the ceremony, there were Mr. and Mrs. William Plum, Polo, Raymond Hagerman, Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Amos DeVries and son Arnold, of Byron, and Mrs. Gertrude Wolf, Mr. and Mrs. Saylor Rodeffer and son Harold, Rev. and Mrs. Hawbecker and son Byron Lee, and Junior, Viola, and Charles Noffsinger of Mount Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. Flora will make their home on a farm west of Mount Morris.

McMullen-Strub Nuptials Observed at Polo Saturday

The bride was becomingly attired in a gray tailored suit with navy accessories and a corsage of orchid and pink sweet peas. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McMullen of Byron, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. The matron of honor wore a tan suit with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of purple and white sweet peas.

Mr. McMullen is employed at the Johnson oil station in Mount Morris, while Mrs. McMullen will continue with her work in Polo, where the couple are making their home in their newly furnished apartment at 10 North Franklin street.

Have a Heart

"Have a heart" and "help an unfortunate" will be the appeal of many of Dixon's young people on Saturday, who, under the leadership of Miss Genevieve Lally, will co-operate with the Volunteers of America in helping to put over the Red Heart tag day in behalf of Mrs. Booth's many activities in this state. Headquarters are to be maintained at the Chamber of Commerce where those who have been invited to compete for the attractive prizes and movie passes, generously offered by local merchants and theater managers, are asked to come Saturday morning to receive their tags and instructions. A cash prize will be given for the one disposing of the largest amount for the tags. Other prizes have been donated by the Ware Hardware store, W. E. Trein, Sterling pharmacy, Gift and Art shop, Montgomery Ward & Co., Helen

M. Schickley, and passes to the Lee theater.

"During the past three years," said Mrs. Booth in one of her recent radio talks, "over 170,000 children in America have been helped to future good citizenship through the work of the Volunteers of America."

An extra heart on Saturday will in no wise cause anyone discomfort but will help many an unfortunate.

CARDS POLISH OFF REDS' NINE MINUS DIZZY

White Sox Revenge Selves On Brown Team 6 To 1

By Sid Feder
Associated Press Sports Writer

No matter how many others shout for the honors, there's still only one Gas House Gang.

Charley Dessen's roughhouse Reds from Cincinnati were supposed to muscle in on the Cardinals' exclusive territory this year, but so far, they've been little better than rookies at the game of rough, tough and nasty. Other clubs also hollered that they'd be infringing on the Cards' copyright, but they're going to have a tough time proving it.

The No. 1 gashouse gangster, Dizzy Dean, polished off the Cincinnati clouters in his usual style in Tuesday's opener. Yesterday, however, Dizzy was taking a rest, so the Reds decided they'd get tough. The result was interesting—but unchanged. When the smoke of a nice quiet knock-down, drag-out brawl had finished, the Cards were still in the saddle. Final score: St. Louis 14, Cincinnati 11.

Gave Up 18 Blows

The two-sided hitting hurricane put on at the expense of eight pitchers who gave up 28 safe blows, easily featured the day's big league program, curialed again by rain. Only two other games got by old Juke Pluvius, the Pirates and their new left-hander, Dutch Brandt, making it two in a row over the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, and the Chicago White Sox reversing their Wednesday wallowing by taking the St. Louis Browns, 6-1.

In that Cincinnati slugging circus, pitchers generally lasted less time that it takes to say "back to the showers." Each side had a run by the time the second inning wound up, with Johnny Mize's homer doing the trick for the Cards.

At Chicago, the Pirates uncovered the left-hander that many believe may bring a pennant to the Smoky City. Brandt, obtained from Brooklyn during the winter, made his debut in the role against Chicago, and, although touched for 10 hits, he fanned eight and was tight as a drum with men on the base.

Monte Stratton, who saw little service with the White Sox last year, muffled the Browns' bats with five hits in his first start for Chicago's American leaguers.

Helen Stephens Defends 50-Meter Dash Title Today

St. Louis, April 23—(AP)—Helen Stephens, the nation's foremost woman sprinter, will defend her 50-meter dash title here tonight as well as attempt to gain new laurels in two field events in the national A. A. U. women's track and field meet. She has entered the shot put and the board jump events.

Queen Helen, the Fulton, Mo. flash who stole the women's end of the show in last summer's Olympic games at Berlin, is expected to have little difficulty in retaining her sprint title. May Brady of St. Louis and Clair Jackson of New York will be her most formidable competition.

Princeton, LaSalle - Peru Will Furnish Dixon Cindermen With Plenty of Competition Tonight

Untried Purple And White Team's First Night Meet

After the initial night track meet last night with Mendota, Ottawa and DePue, the Princeton high school Tiger cinder squad will step out in fast company tonight at Bryant's Field when they entertain squads representing Dixon and LaSalle-Peru.

Much favorable comment has been made in regard to the night track meets and the success of the meet this evening will decide whether or not this type of meet shall be continued during the remainder of the season.

First for Dixon

Tonight's contest at Bryant field will be first bit of competition for the Dixon squad. As the Dixon track is in no condition for competition this spring owing to the mud and silt deposited on the field by flood waters, all of Dixon's meets will be held out of town.

Coach A. C. Bowers has fifty candidates out for track this spring with several lettermen around which to form the nucleus of a strong team. The Purple and White has K. Nelson, fast mile runner, Bob Cooklev for pole vault and javelin throw; Don Miller, as a javelin prospect; Jack Welter in the broad jump; John Jensen a new half mile prospect and Captain Laverne McMillion, work-horse of the hurdles and dashes and due for heavy double duty in the tri-annual contest.

To the east the LaSalle-Peru Cavaliers can't be sold short. Already this season they have competed in two outstanding track meets with favorable outcomes in both. Saturday before last the Cavaliers placed fourth in Class A of the Geneseo relays, topped by such teams as Galesburg, Rock Island and Moline.

Saturday found them at the Pontiac relays. Farmington repeated its 1936 triumph with 67 points to Pontiac's 58. Kankakee was third with 46 2-6 points, and LaSalle-Peru counted fourth with an aggregate of 44 points for the relay carnival.

Barging into their second meet in as many weeks, the Red and Green cohorts dished out more power than was displayed at Geneseo week before last. At Geneseo the team was somewhat at a disadvantage due to confined workouts in the Social Center gym, while finishing touches are being put to the new practice field. Their 24 points at Pontiac overshadowed the 24 garnered at Geneseo, while both were good for fourth place. After a week of outdoor practice, the Cavaliers revealed remarkable growth in the field events, while things seem at a standstill in the relays.

Strell and Mee Trys

Upmost in the list of achievements was the new record for the Pontiac field as well as for LaSalle-Peru by Doc Strell in the javelin, 181 feet 3 inches. Doc showed further progress in the field events by coupling a fourth place in the discus and a fifth in the shot. Along with his efforts were those of two powerful place in the shot and long "Texas" lads, big Bill Mee, who bagged first Jarrow, who sent his javelin whirling through the air for third place. This formidable trio coached by Walt Tyler, should prove to be the nucleus of the point-making section.

In the other individual performances Sammy Rens tied for third in the pole vault, "Mouse" Coulter nipped a fourth in the running broad jump, and tied for first with his teammate, McBurney, in the high jump. Hahn's sixth in the running broad jump was just a little shy of placing.

Standing out in the running events were Emil Ulanowski, anchor man in the 440 yard relay; Stanfield in the mile relay; Meisenbach in the hurdle relay; Schreiner and Donnelly in the low hurdle and Smania in the distance medley relay. The freshman-sophomore relay race revealed some promising material in Alaska, Rovile, Zarnicki, and Kapinski. With a little more practice these lads should be even more effective.

3000 ATHLETES START ASSAULT ON PENN MARKS

Track Packed By Rain Fast For Two-Day Competition

Philadelphia, April 23—(AP)—Nearly 3000 trained-to-the-minute athletes, representing 500 colleges and universities of the United States and Canada, started their onslaught today on track records in the 43rd annual University of Pennsylvania relay carnival.

Cool weather, following two days of rain, made the track fast for the two-day competition.

Two Olympic champions, Forrest (Spec) Towns, 110 meter high hurdles king, from Georgia, and Pittsburgh's Johnny Woodruff, 800 metres titleholder, are headliners among the host of stars in the competition.

Towns runs in a special 120-yard high hurdle race, highlight of today's program.

The Georgian is seeded number 1 in the event. He is bracketed in the first heat with Allen Tolmich of Wayne University, Detroit; Williams Rossiter, of Cornell; Tom McFarland, of Boston college; and James Dillingham of Columbia.

In the second heat are James Rogers, of Washington and Lee; John McNelly, of Indiana; Kemble White, of Princeton; Hughes Coughman, of Pennsylvania; and John Rust, of Virginia.

The first two in each event will qualify to run in the final.

Woodruff will run as anchor man on two Pittsburgh relay teams. The Indiana University squad, a standout performer in the Kansas relays last Saturday, is a favorite among the college relay teams.

MENDOTA TRACK TEAM TRIMMED DEPUE OUTFIT

Mendota high school's track team opened the season by trimming the Depue team in practically every event. Depue was able to secure only two first places, one in the 100 yd. dash and one in the 440 yd. run. Mendota gained a total of 78 points, to Depue's 30.

McDonald was the high point man for Mendota, placing in five events. Taking first in the 220 yd. dash with a time of 24.2 and first in the broad jump with a distance of 19 ft. 1/2 in. he gained a total of 13 points. Dial finished first in the 880 yd. run in 2:30. He also received two second places. McClellan took first in the discus with a 113 ft. 9 in. toss. He threw the shot a distance of 41 ft. 9 in. for a first place.

From the results of the Depue meet, the material for the track team is excellent. Campbell came very close to the school record in the low hurdles with a time of 27.00 seconds flat against the 26.8 record. Whitmore should break the javelin record this year. It is a doubt whether the record is 151 ft. 3 in. or 157 ft. 3 in. If it is the former he has broken the record with a 153 ft. 9 in. throw.

Only several of Depue's team broke into the lime light, and most of those were in two or more events. Two high pointers were Novak and Crossitt with 8 points each. Novak won first in the 440 yd. run in a time of 60 seconds and Crossitt first in the 100 yd. dash in 11 seconds.

The results of the events are as follows, with no records broken:

Mendota Tennis Squad Devoid of Veteran Talent

Last Monday evening officially opened Mendota high's tennis season. At the tennis meetings, held a few days prior to this time, several candidates appeared to receive their introduction to the rules which Mr. Madden, the tennis coach, had compiled.

After all had signed who wished to pit their skill against other enthusiasts of the game, they listened to the few short rules, and then the meeting adjourned.

The next evening, despite the bad weather a few of the players went out for their first practice of the season, which was not very successful due to the facts that no one had played for a long time and that the courts were quite damp.

This year's team will be composed of practically all new members, as the majority of last year's squad graduated. However, there are two or three who have played before and several who know the game quite well. Among these are some freshmen who will undoubtedly see action before the season closes.

Lawrence Smith, the only single player left from last year, is expected to go a long way and with the help of the rest of the squad, Mr. Madden should be able to boast a fine retinue.

So far five freshmen have registered, two sophomores, one junior, and four seniors.

SCOTT ADVISES GEHRIG TO QUIT IRON MAN STUNT

Claims It Slows One Down; Played 1307 Straight Himself

New York, April 23—(AP)—Everett (Deacon) Scott, the "iron man" of another big league era, is back in the big town, after 12 years, with a bit of advice for Lou Gehrig, his successor as baseball's most indelible player.

"Gehrig should quit. Keeping that consecutive game record doesn't do him any good. It'll slow him up in the end."

The deacon knows whereof he speaks. Back in 1925, the same year Gehrig started his record-breaking consecutive game streak, which now has reached 1,809, Miller Huggins sent Peewee Wanniger in at shortstop for the Yanks to replace Scott. That ended the deacon's string of 1,307 successive games.

Shortly afterwards Scott was traded to Washington. Until he returned, yesterday, to bowl in the A. B. C. Scott had not been back to New York.

Happy and Prosperous

He's happy and prosperous.

"I own a big place in Fort Wayne, Ind. 18 bowling alleys and 10 billiard tables," added Scott.

"I don't know about Gehrig, but that streak of mine slowed me down," he went on. "I started one season with a sprained ankle, played lots of games when I should have been resting. In the end it hurts you more than it helps."

The deacon rolled games of 172-191-189 a total of 552, for his team, the Grace Construction five of Fort Wayne. The team totaled 2,707.

EXPECT RECORDS TO COLLAPSE IN BRADFORD MEET

Greatest Collection of Athletes Ever In The Classic

With one of the greatest collection of high school athletes in the state, track fans throughout central Illinois are due for thrills galore Saturday, April 24 at the 2nd annual Bradford Relays.

If past performances mean anything there isn't an individual record that will stand the assault made upon it during the day. In the shot Helsander of Kewanee, Lundeen of Galesburg and Mee of LaSalle-Peru are all capable of breaking the old record of 47' 11". In the javelin, Streil of LaSalle-Peru seems destined to set up a new mark. He has already tossed the spear 181' in the Pontiac relays.

With 53 entries in the high hurdles this record will probably be broken by some athlete before the day is over. With Height of East Moline tossing the discus around 130' that record seems destined to go. In the broad jump Tattini of Farmington present record holder will be back and is capable of hitting his old mark. The pole vault record which is only an inch below the state record of 12' 4" seems fairly safe. In the relays fans will be thrilled by such runners as Anders of Moline who has already turned a hundred yard dash in 9.8. Greene and Anderson Kewanee's "twin" milers are capable of doing under 4:50 and Stein of Farmington who won a second in the mile at the state last year.

Install Loudspeakers

A loud speaker system is being installed and will be operated by "Skeet" Howard prominent Peoria official and track announcer. The referee and starter of the meet will be C. M. Hewitt, track coach of Bradley college.

If weather permits and with such a group of talented athletes the seating capacity of 1500 at the Bradford athletic field will be filled to the limit. The admission will be 25 and 35 cents.

To date there are 572 athletes entered from the following 31 schools—Williamsfield, Wethersfield, Canton, Toulon, Peoria Central, El Paso, Dunlap, Rochelle, Elmwood, LaFayette, Galesburg, Alexis, Farmington, Alpha, Buda, Sheffield, LaSalle-Peru, Pontiac, Granville, Orion, Rock Island, Cambridge, Geneseo, London Mills, Ottawa, Moline, Galva, Kewanee, Brimfield, Metamora, East Moline.

Casey Stengel is in town to collect his first salary check for not managing the Dodgers. Casey said of the opener: "Those spiffy green and white uniforms the Brooks wore fooled me for a while, but I recognized the boys in the latter innings." Minnesota has so many guards they're thinking of shipping some of them across to help handle the coronation. Seven of last year's squad are ready, plus a record batch of soph.

Was His Face Red?

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Kyle Anderson, University of Chicago baseball coach, tells this one on a major league scout who recently approached him at a Maroon practice session.

"I hear you have a fine pitching prospect," said the scout.

"What's his name?" asked Anderson.

"I don't know," replied the scout, "but who's that big fellow over there, the one with the nice action?"

"Yes, he's a good prospect," Anderson gravely remarked. "His name is Red Ruffing."

Ruffing, a New York Yankee holdout, has been working out regularly with the Chicago squad.

Boxing Session Is Arranged For Braddock Today

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—A boxing session with two sparrows was on Heavyweight Champion Jim Braddock's training schedule today.

Anxious to start improving his timing in preparation for his bout June 22 at Comiskey park with Joe Louis, the titleholder jogged over the Lincoln park bridge paths during the morning and then pulled on the gloves for a drill with sparring partners Jack McCarthy and Charlie Massera.

Braddock said his manager, Joe Gould, will arrive from New York Saturday morning, and decided by Sunday on a permanent training camp site. Louis' co-managers, Julian Black and John Boxborough, also are considering camps for the Brown Bomber.

Here and There In Sports World

By Eddie Brietz

New York, April 22—(AP)—The score was Jupiter Pluvius 7; Big League 1. It may not be news that Sten Suvio of Finland, 1936 Olympic champion, has turned pro. But it is news that he has been guaranteed $2,000 per year, plus 66 2/3 per cent of what he earns.

By his American manager, Emil Sarbo. This is just about tops for an unproved fighter. Most of them sign up for $600 per year or the customary 66 2/3 per cent. Apparently Sarbo believes the nice-looking Suvio has what it takes. Van Linghe Mungo, who turned in 18 wins for the Dodgers last season, thinks he'll repeat because his South Carolina auto license adds up to 18.

The way the Giants are running against Brooklyn makes 'em look like the Giants of the John McGraw days. Hot spots controlled by Jack Dempsey and Tony Canzone are fighting for business almost next door to each other. A block away is a place operated by Mickey Walker and Benny Leonard is looking for a spot in the same neighborhood. Mike Jacobs got a haircut and prepared to fly to Chicago to see how Braddock and Louis are coming along, but the weather was too bad. Bill Terry, who used to sport No. 3, now wears No. 30.

Members of the fair sex were first in line at three of the unserved games in Brooklyn for the opener. Beginning in 1934, the Yankees have lost every opening game by one run. Before Tuesday's inaugural, Lefty Gomez had been trimmed twice by 1-0 scores. P. S. Al Simmons was the villain, Tuesday. It isn't true that Primo Carnera is coming back to these shores as a wrestler. What did Mickey Cochrane think when he read the Washington box score and saw what Aloysius Simmons did? Judge Landis is sporting a new hat—of the pork pie variety.

Casey Stengel is in town to collect his first salary check for not managing the Dodgers. Casey said of the opener: "Those spiffy green and white uniforms the Brooks wore fooled me for a while, but I recognized the boys in the latter innings." Seven Pacers to Enter Big Derby

Goshen, N. Y., April 23—(AP)—Seven of the country's outstanding pacers are still eligible for the $4,500 pacing Derby, which will be raced for the first time at Syracuse's Grand Circuit meeting, Sept. 6-11. The Derby, similar to its provisions to the $16,000 All-American Stake for trotters, also to be raced at Syracuse, will be a single handicap dash of one and one-half miles.

Michigan Defeats Ohio State, Takes On Hawkeyes Next

Chicago, Apr. 23—(AP)—Michigan, defending champion, makes its second start in the Big Ten baseball race today, opposing Iowa at Iowa City.

The Wolverines showed class in taking a 2 to 0 decision from Ohio State Monday. On Wednesday a game with Wisconsin washed out. Iowa broke even in two tilts with Chicago.

The other conference contest on today's schedule was Ohio State at Illinois. It was a curtain-raiser for the Illini. Ohio State defeated Northwestern twice before bowing to Michigan.

Joe Louis, reported fat and slow on his recent exhibition tour, looks great training for Braddock. Tommy Henrich, new Yankee outfielder, is variously known as "Dutch" and "Butch." Tommy Loughran, through with the ring, has bought a Philadelphia pub for $50,000. And Mickey Walker, another old ring great, has sold his Shrewsbury, N. J. estate for $25,000. Apparently Red Ruffing is tired of sitting down. Rogers Hornsby is the guy who sent old Father Time into eclipse. Baby Saly Saban, Mexican welterweight, has insured his hands for $10,000.

Tests made in 1935 show that trees vary considerably in their efficiency as windbreaks along highways. In certain cases hard maples actually increase the wind velocity in the middle of the road. The various tests showed 52 per cent to 97 per cent reductions in wind velocity.

RECORDS ARE IN DANGER AT DRAKE RELAYS

Sprint, Relay, Distance Medley Are Features

Des Moines, Ia., April 23—(AP)—Several records were in imminent danger today as a fast field sprinted into action in the first day of the twenty-eighth annual Drake relays. The sprint medley, an addition to the regular Drake program, and the distance medley were billed as features of the Friday program.

Ohio State, anchored by Charles Beetham, national collegiate half-mile champion, and the sun-bronzed young men from Rice Institute were standouts in a fast field for the sprint medley.

Each team boasted a quartet capable of doing 3:27 or under, the national record is 3:27.4.

Entered in the distance medley were Wisconsin, Notre Dame, Nebraska, Drake, Iowa, Ohio State and Purdue.

17:40.2 Likely to Fall

The Drake mark of 17:40.2 for the four-mile relay appeared likely to fall under an attack by either Wisconsin or Notre Dame.

The two mile run had three exceptional performers in the starting list. Kenneth Waite of Michigan State, I. C. A. A. A. cross country champion, was the favorite, with little Bill Feller of Drake and Jim Whitaker of Ohio State given better than outside chances to win.

Archie San Romani, the little Italian from the Emporia, Kan. State Teachers, will be the feature attraction of tomorrow's program. The Olympic runner, who has developed a habit of whizzing to the tape ahead of Glenn Cunningham, holder of the world mile mark, will appear against five selected opponents in a mile and a half race.

Drake officials secured the Ride-out twins of Texas, Wayne and Blaine; Ray Sears, former Butler University ace. Floyd Lochner of Oklahoma and Whitaker to compete with the flying Italian.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with "THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Two women, Elinor Guthrie Hayes and Marjorie Shuler, debate this question in the Independent Woman. Miss Hayes exclaims, "Think of all the hours of lovely time sacrificed to send hundreds of thousands of office workers to their desks resembling the visions of screen and dentifrice advertisements... isn't it appalling?" Miss Shuler counters, "Sloppy clothes or a disorganized wardrobe indicate sloppy and disordered thinking, and to have the right clothes at hand

SELF-CONFIDENCE
And How to Develop It

This booklet is in many respects the greatest yet offered by Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam, S.Sc. Author of "Let's Explore Your Mind." It contains TEN RULES, each scientifically tested and presented in clear, easily understood words. Included is a self-rating Self-Confidence, or Personality Comparison chart.

The essence of the booklet is the work of Dr. David Mitchell, distinguished consulting psychologist. This booklet is issued without profit as a service to readers. A charge of 10c is made to cover costs. Enclose a recent stamped, self-addressed return envelope. Address Dr. Albert Edward Wiggam in care of this newspaper. Just ask for SELF-CONFIDENCE.

is a time saver." But Miss Hayes comes back with, you don't need to be "sloppy" to look trim and business like. But Miss Shuler swings this haymaker, "We must be up and doing no matter how painful the process." Well, girls, there you are! Fight it out, but don't ask me to referee.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Most crimes of fraud are in a class by themselves and defrauders are practically always of an entirely different type from the "common criminal" the hold-up, burglar, counterfeiter, etc. In a published report by the U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty company of Baltimore embezzlers are described as rarely displaying any ordinary criminal traits; they are trusted by their bosses, stand well in the community, drink moderately, own a last year's car and on the whole pass as "good citizens." Thirty years ago, Dr. Charles Goring of London adduced much evidence that heredity plays a strong part in all sorts of crime except crimes of fraud.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes. They appeal to that primitive tendency still present in the most advanced peoples to ascribe personality to animals and even to rocks, trees, mountains, etc. And when the unloosed imagination gives a personality and "spirit" to animals it delights to see them defy all laws of nature—gravitation, mechanism, chemistry and all orderly, natural processes.

DR. HART TELLS
PRINCETON LIONS
ABOUT HOSPITALBlames Public Lethargy for Prevalence of Feeble-Mindedness

Princeton, April 23.—Lethargic public opinion can be blamed for the lack of progress in meeting the problem of feeble-mindedness in Illinois, Dr. B. D. Hart, staff physician at the Dixon State Hospital, told members of the Lions club at the weekly dinner meeting in the Clark hotel.

"We are powerless to do much about changing the conditions which bring so many feeble-minded people into the world unless we have the support of the legislature and the people of the state," he declared.

Dr. Hart pointed out it was not uncommon for the offspring of a discharged or escaped patient to be an addition to the feeble-minded committed to the institution. Such population of the state might have been avoided had the feeble-minded parent been prevented from reproducing, he pointed out.

Public's Problem

"It's your problem. What do you want to do about it?" he demanded. "You're paying $25,000 a year in taxes for maintaining of the institution. The last inventory two years ago showed a valuation of hospital property of about $4,250,000. Do you want to support this institution and see human suffering increase or do you want to take steps to lessen feeble-mindedness in the state?"

The hospital was opened May 1, 1918, as an institution for the care of epileptics. Lying two miles north of Dixon on a 1057 acre plot of ground, it had facilities for about 300 patients. At the end of the first year, only 100 patients were being cared for there. The institution was expanded into a home for feeble-minded, and its population immediately started growing.

Not Penal Institution

Now there are 3290 patients. Classes accepted now are epileptics, feeble-minded, and victims of the brain disease, encephalitis. Dixon now takes all of the feeble-minded patients committed from the northern half of the state. The hospital at Lincoln cares for the patients from the southern half.

Inmates of the hospital are treated as physical problems rather than as disciplinary problems. They are examined on admission and are continually given medical attention.

Many of the patients have a high mental level as persons living normal lives in private society, but the patients are in the hospital because they have developed delinquent habits, which along with their limited mental attainments, make it impossible for them to live normally in society. These delinquent habits can be removed from the patients in the institution if the habits were developed during the formative years of the individual's life.

Grouped Mentally

Upon their admission to the institution, patients are tested and placed in a group according to their mentality. The are given simple tasks, coincident with their mental levels. Some attend school classes and others work on the farm or do other work. Few can learn trades for they do not have the mental capacity for such work. They are entertained by movies, dances, band concerts, church services, plays and musical entertainments. Other activities include a Boy Scout and Girl Scout council and organized recreation.

Of the 1000 acres of land, 800 acres is used for farming purposes. The farm does not make money for the institution, but it does bear a part of the expense. Gardening helps reduce the food expense. Employees to care for the 3200 inmates number 357.

THREE ILLINOIS
VICTIMS CURED
MILK SICKNESS

St. Louis, April 23.—(AP)—Cure of three Illinois victims of milk sickness, a disease which sometimes occurs in the Middle West during periods of drought, was described to the American College of Physicians by Dr. Harold E. Bulger of Barnes hospital, St. Louis.

The disease, caused by drinking the milk of cows which have eaten white snakeroot, a poisonous plant, is now so rare the cases described were the first treated in a large modern medical center, Dr. Bulger said.

The patients, he said, were members of a farm family near Frankfort. They were treated at the hospital last June and recovered completely when given injection of sugar and starch, foods which are destroyed by the disease.

More than 100 years ago, milk sickness was common and resulted in many deaths, the physician reported. In some instances towns were abandoned because the disease was prevalent.

White snakeroot grows in shady places and has nearly disappeared with the clearing of land, he said. Cattle do not like the plant and avoid eating it except when grass has dried up.

States Received
$691,420 On Gasoline Taxes

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Federal highway officials said that states received $691,420,000 from taxes on more than 18,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline last year. States' receipts from this source were $619,677,000 in 1935.

The bureau of public roads reported a 10.8 per cent increase in motor fuel consumption compared with 1935, with every state except North Dakota showing a gain.

Every state imposed a gasoline tax, the levies averaging 3.85 cents.

APPROPRIATIONS
CUT SUPPORTED
CLAIMS BYRNESWould Slice Millions
From 1938 Budget
If Adopted

Washington, April 23.—(AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-SC) claimed strong support today for his proposal for a flat 10 per cent cut in all 1938 appropriations.

He said he had found "lots of sentiment" for it among other members of the Senate appropriations committee.

Byrnes, long an administration spokesman on fiscal affairs, estimated his suggestion would slice another $400,000,000 from the 1938 budget. President Roosevelt's budget estimates would leave a $418,000,000 deficit for the year.

Byrnes had announced earlier a campaign to reduce next year's deficit fund from the $1,500,000,000 recommended by the president to an even billion.

The first powerful voice outside Congress raised against the president's economy plea was that of the American Farm Bureau Federation, often an agricultural ally of the administration.

"We are for economy," said President Edward A. O'Neal, "but we are not for an economy that will paralyze agriculture."

Referring to Secretary Wallace's hint that the "ever-normal granary" and other new farm measures might be shelved because of the president's wish for economy, O'Neal said the storage system, commodity loans and a measure of production control were necessary to a stable price structure.

American slang contains frequent references to food, as witness these everyday expressions: "the raspberry," "a good egg," "cudflower ears," "balony," "banana oil," "crabbing," "a peach," "full of prunes," "a lemon," "cheese it," "knows his onions," "talk turkey," etc.

Flowers are held in reverence in Japan, and Japanese people are taught to bow low before inspecting them.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

THERE ARE NO DOMESTICATED BEES!

THOSE LIVING IN OUR MAN-MADE HIVES ARE AS WILD AS THOSE INHABITING HOLLOW TREES IN THE JUNGLE.

IN 1859, ASTRONOMERS WERE SO POSITIVE THAT THEY SAW A PLANET BETWEEN MERCURY AND THE SUN, THE NAME "VULCAN" WAS GIVEN TO IT! MODERN ASTRONOMERS ARE CONVINCED THAT NO SUCH BODY EXISTS.

BEES are commonly spoken of as domesticated insects, but the bee that lives in the most scientifically equipped apiary can be transported to a hollow tree and he will be equally at home. A bee never learns to know its master from any other person.

REALTY MARKETS FIND TRAILERS COMPETITION

Colder Climes Won't Be Conducive to Trailers

Minneapolis, April 23—House-trailer competition with small homes and apartments as well as with beach cottages is already being felt in some southern realty markets; northern summer resort proprietors with strings of housekeeping cottages for rent view the expanding public interest in trailer travel with mixed emotions but in some cases are buying trailers themselves as substitutes for additional cottages, while realtors in many parts of the United States are watching the zooming sales of "houses on wheels" with keen interest, though anticipating little effect on the market for permanent housing facilities in zones with severe winters.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Public haunt dealers' showrooms, and trailer factory production schedules are being stepped up to double and treble 1936 outputs, with inquires and current orders far ahead of the same season last year, according to a survey just completed by Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis.

Though most of the concerns reporting are operating only one shift now, the majority expect to put on additional shifts during their approaching peak season. Almost without exception they are either making increases in the size of their factories, or have recently done so. Of a dozen major manufacturers of house trailers from Michigan to California, the smallest increase reported over 1936 production schedules was 50 per cent and the largest 900 per cent. Total U. S. output for 1937 is variously estimated at from 100,- 000 to 150,000 units.

The severe house shortages existing in many cities are cited by realtors as likely to postpone any visible effects from trailer competition for some time to come. Typical comment from a Des Moines, Ia., real estate firm: "No effects of trailer competition anticipated in near future, due to the severe climatic changes in this area, though a house shortage here has caused a considerable increase in rents and may eventually force people in the lowest rent brackets into trailer living." A Milwaukee, Wis., realty concern states: "We believe that with building costs rising and small rentable units becoming very scarce, many families will at least temporarily adopt the trailer mode of shelter. We can quote several specific instances."

Southern winter resort communities have been first to note the effects of trailer popularity. "Our experience so far with trailers and tourist camps has convinced us they are going to affect the hotel business, also the renting of summer homes furnished; this, we think, will in turn also affect unfurnished, medium-priced homes," says an Asheville, N. C., realty concern.

Florida real estate men generally welcome the trailer as a strongly beneficial influence: "I consider house trailers to be a distinct benefit to a resort city like St. Petersburg," is a typical comment. "Trailers bring more people to our city;
 most people, accustomed to larger quarters will not live permanently in their trailer; I believe we sell more homes per thousand families living in trailers than per thousand families living in hotels and apartments."

A number of sales of house trailers have already been made to northern summer resort proprietors in some cases to provide mobile accommodations for guests who want to fish several neighboring lakes;
 in other cases proprietors are "boosting" the trailers off their wheels, piping and wiring them for permanent accommodations.

Small cottage-resort operators expressed conflicting views in the inquiry; some began to feel trailer competition last year, though the 1936 season was a very prosperous
 one. Some proprietors are positive the trailer will decrease resort business; others welcome it and are planning accommodations for trailer visitors.

"Expert trailer competition to affect the summer resort business;
 we had several examples last summer. Peel trailers will reduce the number of new summer cottages built." But, said another small resort owner: "Trailers will not hurt
 the resort business to any extent.
 As a whole, they may help. We are establishing facilities to accommodate trailers in our camp."

The more luxurious class of resorts can see no possible competition from the "house on wheels."
 "Don't think trailers will hurt our trade, as we cater to a class who want roomy quarters," was a representative comment.

Prevailing estimates of the number of house trailers now in service vary from 300,000 to 500,000, and anticipate that the number will expand another 100,000 or 150,000 by the end of 1937, the report of states. People living on life insurance annuities, railroad men, and others retired on pensions, school teachers, skilled and unskilled workers are among the social and economic groups in which house trailers are finding markets, according to the study.

CHAPTER II

THE boys in the orchestra picked up their tiny megaphones and harmonized the chorus of their song. Lights, for the moment, were seductively dimmed. The wildly spirited tone of the music gradually became tender. Unconsciously, the younger dancers pressed their cheeks a little closer;
 the older men tightened their hold about matronly waists. Bob Andrews, skirting the edge of the floor, maneuvered his partner through an arched doorway onto a quiet side porch.

"There!" he said with satisfaction, "It's good to get out of that din . . ."

"The music is perfect, Bob,"
 Joan corrected.

"Maybe so. But I was crazy to bring you here tonight."

His eyes worshiped the clear-cut profile of her face, the proud lift of her chin, and his heart quickened to this chance of being alone.

Joan raised her eyebrows in mild surprise. "Why?" she asked, smiling up at him. "Don't your neighbors like me?"

"Like you!" They walked over to the porch railing. Below them on the terrace, the evergreens, festooned with gay red and green and yellow lanterns, gleamed brightly, and the reflection of the lights lent a glow of colorful enchantment to the porch.

"Like you!" Bob repeated, linking her arm more tightly in his.
 "Every man in the place is ready to eat me alive for keeping you to myself this way."

Still looking down at her, he caught the beauty of that moment mirrored in her wide blue eyes.
 "Joan, darling," he said with infinite tenderness, "do you know that you're the loveliest girl in all the world?"

"No. But I know that I'm the happiest—tonight." She smiled wistfully.

"Won't you share it, my dear?"
 Joan dropped her eyes under his intense gaze.

"I could be the happiest man in the world tonight," he went on.
 "You could make me, Joan."

When she did look up, there were tears glistening on her eyelashes.

"Bob, my dear! It's so impossible—so utterly—"

"Impossible to love me?"

SHE started, and for one brief instant, he read the answer in her eyes. Then his arms were about her, his lips seeking hers.
 At first she struggled against him,
 then slowly, in resignation to a

"Bob—" She stopped abruptly, looking over his shoulder toward the doorway. Sybil Hendry stood behind them, and her eyes were cold as Arctic ice.

force stronger than her will, she gave herself up to the full ecstasy of his embrace.

Inside, the music struck a livelier note; the dancing became more spirited; voices were raised in a babbling confusion. But here on the tiny porch, there were only two people in all the world; two who had just discovered the answer to the everlasting mystery of life.

After a moment, he released
 her. She drew back, frightened at herself, and caught her breath sharply. Her eyes, as she looked up at him, were wide and fearful.
 "You do love me, Joan. Don't try to deny it."

"Oh, Bob, please listen to me.
 I can't love you. I mustn't. Won't you understand? I couldn't ever make you happy . . ."

He shook his head, contradicting her words. He smiled joyfully down at her.

"You have made me happy, my darling. I'm the happiest man in the world, as I told you I would be. I'm going to marry you, Joan.
 Do you hear me? I'm not asking you to marry me . . . I've done that too often. I'm telling you,
 now. I'm going to marry you."

The music stopped abruptly. For a brief second there was a breathless stillness. Then, from far above them, the clock in the steeple of the Inn struck one.

JOAN slipped out of Bob's arms;
 she held him off at arm's length
 as she spoke to him.

"Bob," she said chokingly, "I'm being caught in some magic spell.
 I mustn't let it overcome me. I cannot marry you. No matter how we feel—"

"You mean there's someone else, Joan? Someone you've already married?"

"No. There's no one else. It's not as easy as that."

"Then what is it, my dear?
 Can't you tell me—so that we can work it out together?"

"I can't tell you, Bob. There's something in my life that I would rather die than have you find out, because if you did, you would hate me."

For a moment he stood there, looking into her eyes, trying to draw out their secret. Then he made his decision.

"Listen to me, Joan," he said in all seriousness. "With all my heart, I love you. Whatever the past holds, we'll forget together.
 Whatever the future brings, we'll fight together. But I'm going to marry you."

"Bob—" She stopped abruptly, looking over his shoulder toward the doorway. Following her glance, he turned around. Sybil Hendry stood behind them, and her eyes
 were cold as Arctic ice.
 "Hello, Sybil," Bob greeted cordially.

As Sybil looked at him, her lips were smiling, and she forced a bright gaiety into her voice. "Am I intruding?" she asked.

She came forward, extending both hands to Bob. Her eyes were in the shadows, so that he could not read the fierce anguish hidden in their depths.

"Of course not, Sybil," Bob returned exuberantly. "And listen, you shall be the first to hear that Joan is going to marry me. Wish us luck, Sybil!"

"MARRY you?" She choked over the words, and her hand flew nervously to her throat.
 Quickly, however, she recovered herself. "Bob!" she exclaimed, and her tone was gay to the point of hysteria. "I'm simply overwhelmed with surprise!"

She did not wish him luck, she did not look at Joan. But Joan, too frightened and confused herself at Bob's irrevocable announcement, did not notice the omission.

"I must tell your uncle, Sybil," Bob rushed on. "Know where he is?"

"No. No. I don't. Probably down at the bar . . ."

"We'll find him. Come along, Joan. I'm telling everybody before you try to back out."

Inside, the orchestra began
 "Auld Lang Syne," and the dancers were forming themselves into an enormous circle to sing the refrain. Merry voices called out cheery greetings to special acquaintances, and friendly hands reached out to draw elusive stragglers into the singing circle. Sybil watched Bob weave his way in and out among them, his arms held protectingly around the girl he had chosen in preference to her. She saw the glad light in his eyes as he refused to be drawn into the circle—the glad light which she had never been able to arouse.

It seemed as if all the world had suddenly stopped—as if the end of life had come as well. She was so cold that she shook like a leaf in the wind; yet in her brain a white-hot fire was raging—a fire of anger and jealousy and bitter hatred.

And through the mad flames that were her thoughts, one sentence rang out, loud and true and unforgettable:

"There's something in my life that I would rather die than have you find out, because if you did,
 you would hate me."

She had heard the words distinctly and unmistakably. Now they seared themselves indelibly into her brain.

Suddenly her white teeth
 flashed and she began to laugh, quietly at first, then so increasingly loud that those inside who heard her were a little startled.

GOOD THOUGHTS

There are many people who fear solitude, confusing it with loneliness. But in solitude there is always, or there may be, divine companionship.

—Archibald Rutledge.

They are never alone that are accompanied with noble thoughts.

—Sir Philip Sidney.

When we know ourselves, our potentialities, our limitless power, our birthright as the sons of God, we shall never be lonely, but we shall love to be alone.

—Fanny de Groot Hastings.

Alone? Alone?

None is alone!

For where is one,

There He is too—

No man goeth alone!

—John Oxenham.

Are we carrying a load of loneliness? Even if we are in a solitary place, divine Love is there to make the solitude glad with the revealing of that truth which the physical senses cannot perceive, to enrich our thought and lift it above self, so that we can emerge from our present condition with open arms and giving hands, happier and more useful that we have ever been.

The Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him.

Methodist Episcopal Church

H. C. Buterbaugh, Pastor

There is only one way of filling the church on Sunday mornings: and that is to stop simply talking about how wonderful it would be, and just come out and make it be.

Next Sunday, April 25, you will experience the "thrill" of worshipping in a full church, if you determine that you are going to be present. Without you it can never happen. For the first time in years we are attempting to have all our many members and friends to worship together at one time.

Next Sunday is the day set for this feat. We can think off hand of four experiences that come to a person worshipping in a full church which give one poise and power.

Enjoyment—The very building echoes the joyful sound when hundreds of voices are lifted in singing the great hymns of the church.

Enrichment—The heart of the worshiper is filled with the realization of the length and breadth, and height and depth of the love of God when hundreds of heads are bowed in the enrichment of prayer.

Encouragement—when hundreds of eyes are raised to the cross and gaze on the calm countenance of Jesus one realizes as never before how the encouragement and comfort of religion is indeed a common need of all mankind.

Enlightenment—And when hundreds of minds are attentive to the message one experiences a hopeful satisfaction that such a means of helpful enlightenment is available every week to all who seek to live happier and more meaningful lives.

Try it next Sunday. We rest the case in your hands.

CHURCH NOTES

"Taking the Tide"

Shakespeare said: "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood, leads on to fortune; omitted, all the voyage of their lives is bound in shallows and in miseries."

One of our famous preachers has confessed that he experiences seasons when a flood of ideas come upon him with corresponding periods when his mind seems absolutely barren. He must work fast and long when the tide flows for him.

Nature itself provides evidence of the principle of ebb and flow; at the present time the tide of life is beginning to run. Perhaps this is also true in spiritual experience for many. There are seasons of the soul when it is easier to step higher in living—but the tide must be taken when it flows.

OLD GLORY WON HONOR IN WAR WITH TRIPOLI

Old Glory has been the symbol of the United States for nearly 160 years, but there are few episodes in its career as significant as its display over a Tripolitan stronghold on April 27, 1805. It represented a signal victory of the infant American navy over a cruel and barbarous foe.

Our flag's triumph came as a climax to our war with Tripoli, when America decided it would no longer pay tribute to the Barbary pirates as the price of our freedom of the seas. The episode, one of the strangest in our entire national history, has been almost forgotten in the march of our country to its place among the leading powers of the world.

Never before nor since has such an oddly assorted group of men banded together to bring about the triumph of American arms. An expedition, hastily organized at Alexandria, Egypt, included a few U. S. marines and a motley assemblage of Greeks, Turks, Arabians and the polyglot dwellers of northern Africa.

The conquest of Derne was conceived by William Eaton, naval agent to the Barbary states, and his military leader was Lieut. Presley N. O'Bannon, of the marine corps. Eaton planned to depose the governor of Derne and to place in power a ruler more friendly to the Americans.

During the march of nearly 600 miles across the desert, the Americans met with revolt, dissension and open mutiny among their followers, while the lack of both food and water added to their woes. It was only the firm attitude of Eaton, supported by O'Bannon and his marines, that brought the expedition to its successful climax.

Before the storming of Derne, the overland party was reinforced by the crews of three American gunboats. The surrender of Derne was demanded. It was refused.

The Americans and their allies then swept forward and captured the fortress and turned its guns upon the enemy, while Lieutenant O'Bannon tore down the Tripolitan standard and flung Old Glory to the breeze. It was the first time the Stars and Stripes had ever flown over a fortress of the Old World.

Alaska surpasses any other equal area of the United States in the variety, extent and value of its mineral resources.

Some bee keepers let their bees die in winter, claiming it is cheaper to import new stock each spring than feed their swarms during the cold months.
